Description

Add rustic authenticity to your space with this 19th century French oak bowl, a beautifully hand-carved piece that reflects traditional craftsmanship. Formed from solid oak, it features an organic shape with a richly aged patina that highlights the natural grain, knots, and wear developed over time. The timeworn surface and subtle imperfections give it a warm, utilitarian charm, making it as decorative as it is historic. Perfect for styling on a kitchen counter, dining table, or shelf, this antique French bowl brings texture, character, and timeless Old World appeal to any interior.
