Description

Add architectural character and historic charm to your space with this 19th century French oak Neo-Gothic stool, a beautifully crafted piece that reflects the bold, structural design of the period. Constructed from solid oak, it features carved panel sides and distinctive cut-out details inspired by Gothic architecture, all enhanced by a richly aged patina that highlights the natural grain of the wood. The sturdy form and compact scale make it both functional and versatile—ideal as a seat, side table, or decorative accent. Sold individually, each stool brings texture, history, and timeless French craftsmanship to any interior.
