Description

The Delfino Sofa pairs modern, architectural lines with relaxed, everyday comfort. Bench-style seating and a subtle cutout detail create a clean, sculptural profile, while a generously cushioned seat invites effortless lounging. Built with supportive S-spring construction and a solid pine frame, this sofa is designed for long-term comfort and durability. Upholstered in a soft, textural performance fabric, it offers built-in resistance to stains, moisture, and odors—making it an ideal choice for both refined living spaces and homes designed for real life.
