Description

Shadow Study #2 is an original acrylic painting by Mary Grace Tracy that continues her exploration of pattern, rhythm, and shifting light. Soft gray-blue marks layer across a dark ground, forming a dynamic grid that feels both structured and quietly organic.

Painted in acrylic on canvas, the repeated brushstrokes create depth through overlap and subtle variation, suggesting movement as light passes across a surface. The restrained palette and tactile texture give the work a calm, architectural presence while rewarding closer inspection.

Perfect for shelves, studies, or gallery walls, Shadow Study #2 pairs beautifully with Shadow Study #1 or stands alone as a refined, modern abstraction.
