Description

The Late 19th Century Louis XVI Bergère Chair exemplifies the refined elegance and neoclassical style of Louis XVI's reign. This charming piece features a beautifully carved wooden frame with fluted legs, rosettes, and delicate detailing that reflects the sophistication of the period. The recent reupholstering enhances its appeal, providing a fresh and luxurious finish that complements its classic design. With its enclosed upholstered sides and comfortable seat, this Bergère chair not only offers a stylish seating option but also serves as a timeless accent piece, bridging historical craftsmanship with contemporary flair.
