Description

This exquisite 18th-century Louis XVI carved gilt-framed mirror is a stunning example of the opulence and craftsmanship of the period. The intricately carved frame, adorned with classical motifs such as laurel wreaths, ribbons, and floral garlands, is gilded in rich gold leaf, exuding elegance and refinement. The mirror's design reflects the Neoclassical style favored during Louis XVI's reign, combining symmetry and grace with a sense of grandeur. Its antique glass, with subtle aging, adds to its timeless charm, making this mirror a captivating statement piece for any collection or sophisticated interior.
